

2023 Augusta Jeffrey Memorial Award
Nominations Accepted February 1-28, 2023

Guidelines: The family of Augusta Jeffrey has presented First Presbyterian Church with a fund from which a recognition award is to be presented each year to a member for outstanding volunteer efforts within the Church and through its programs. Nominees will be reviewed by a committee appointed by the Board of Deacons, and an award winner selected by a consensus, according to the information provided on this form. You may nominate more than one person. To be accepted for consideration, This nomination form must be filled out completely. Areas of service may include but are not limited to: mission, worship, member care, Christian education, administration, and evangelism.

Each year, the winner of the Augusta Jeffrey Memorial Award will designate an area of ministry in which the church is engaged that they choose to receive a financial boost. A list of possible recipients of this memorial fund will be provided to winners to choose from, but choices will not be limited to the list. The names of all nominees will be published after the award is given.

Nomination: I nominate the following member of First Presbyterian Church for outstanding service:

Examples: Please cite specific examples of services provided by the nominee:

Summary: Summarize how this nominee's meritorious efforts set an outstanding example for the congregation of First Presbyterian Church:

Nominated by: _____ Phone # _____

This award is not intended as a competition, but as an opportunity for us, the congregation, to examine where our priorities lie within the church and to recognize those people we feel contribute significantly to their advancement.

It is our sincere wish that each of you will participate in the spirit which the gift is given. Augusta Jeffrey served the Church unselfishly over many years, and this is her legacy in helping us to model ourselves after others who consistently provide exemplary service as people of God.